To the Edstors of the Louisville Journal: Papican, Kr. Dec 16, 1861.

The old year is almost gone. The "cool weather." for which it was said we were waiting preparatory to our advance upon the strongholds of rebailion, has come, and we are still here, and the ladications now are that we are to wait for a grow

I am wrong, however, in saving that the weather is cold. With the exception of a binstering day or two, we have had most delightful weather here during this month. The sun has shone bright and warm, and I find it difficult to real'ze that it is winter and not spring. The bright golden sunthine and the dry bracing air, in connection with cur "Fremont tents," and the sunitary errange-ments of the camp, heve had a most favorable effect upon the health of the regiment.
We have not a d zan men in the hospital, and one that are danger mely ill. Last week our regiment took a little junt into he country, with the expectation of cutting off a supply train of the rebels, and of destroying a rebel mil, or at least a mill that furnished grain

The mill was ntterly desireved, but the train of cars escaped. The expedition was under the command of Gon, Wallace, and consisted of a portion of our regiment, with five hundred cavalry and two or three pieces of artillery. It is reported that within an hour after we had relired from Viola, a village some fifteen or twenty miles from P. ducah, it was occupied by three thousand rebel trueps. If so, I think Gen. Wallace made a fortunate escape. The soldiers of the 11.b. however, are of the opinion that they could have whipped that many rebels without much treuble, and seemed to feel it to be a great misfortune that

But here is an instance for which I will worch. One of our guaboats went up the Cumberland river a few days ago to pick np the Tennessee refugees whom the reign of ter ror had driven from their bomes and sacred al tars, and who were biding in the woods, living upon berries and roots, awaiting oppurturalies of escape. While anchored at a bend of the Cum berland, they beheld a negro making "double quick" for the river. He tore down the bank towards the water's edge as if in the greatest ter ror, end, having caught right of the heat, h stretched out his black hands, and in the wood earnest tones becought them to telle him of ward, declaring that the bloodh unds were upon his track. The man was immediately taken of ward, and as soon as he reached the deck he fell npon his knees and hurst into a flood of teers. In a few moments the hounds appeared upon the hank. The men who were in pursuit, at the sight of the gunbeat, went 'back again' even faster than they came, evidently fearing that a leaden messenger might over ake them. When the negro, who was breathless and almost while with fear, had recovered his meech. se informed the officers of the boat that he be longed to a rebel master, fourteen miles from the iver; that he had fied upon the approach of an armed hand of maranders who were hunting negroes for the use of the rebel army: that his master, socing them opproaching the plantation and anticipating their purpose, had told him to run for his life, and upon the word he had started for the river and had fortunately met the boat. I will state, further, that the story told by the reo was afterwards confirmed by the most reits le testim my.

The Hon. Em. Ethridge, of Tenn., has been a this port for several days. I suppose he is here to labor in some wey to advance the cause of the Union. He is published for a speech to-morrow, and I am informed he will issue a proclamation to 11s old friends and constituents of the border unties of Tennassee. The great and most nomable fact in reference to the refugees from Tennessee, that I have seen, is, that they are evdently destitute of purpose, energy, or spirit. They are apparently only decirous of getting to some place where they will be out of danger they seem content to be permitted to breathe-to

If Ethridge can succeed in inspiring these with even a small proportion of his spirit, he will have accomplished much.

Every report from R swling Green seems to in-decate a residue to go into winter quarters. To do this without a ringle off at towards the re-length in of Kantucky will be nothing more nor less than a downright disgrace to our arms. It will entirely destroy all confidence in General Johnst in, and firstly impore his usefulness in the future. It will weeken, disc urage, and pro-trate usterly the noble schemes which inspire the stave men who are new rallying to the rel of of a neighbor State, and blacken the fair hopes which we charish for the release of a lovel and annord sister from bondage. awnored sister from bondage. It will lose us Kontuck, forever, and serion by endanger our cwn borders whenever the spring campaign opens.

Can it be possible that General Johnston will so misarely his great trust?

We have heard some queer notions manifoned as reacons for this masterly irrativity. Among others, equally absurd, it is alleged that a passive quiet do no our part throughout the winter has the wall perste with an inhibiting power on the enemy, that it will discourage and demoralize them, and that before the new season their condition will be ration, as will offer us an easy victory. God help the surbors of such a theory. A more elupentum fully never originated in an old maid a pare, or arose over a grandmother's suntil box. The very reverse is the case. The enemy is the party which can afford to wait. They are compared of men whose services are employed at a fair valuation. They onlist for proper and of men whose services are employed at a fair valuation. They onlist for proper and so long as they receive their regular him, a sing inactivity in camp or quarters is all the better for them.

In the name of common sense, how one we to demoralize the enemy by refusing to right him.

In the name of common sense, how ere we to demoralize the enemy by refusing to right him? I raly a new piece of philosophy under the sun. He already bolls four-ufthe of Keatucky. Why should be advanc? He certainly his a planeithe secure not to do so. Perhaps he is not pure to do so, the probability of the condition of the footbold in Kentucky. There may be a hundred reasons for his bolding back. There is not one for us, and we are loving time, and univsing chancer, every day that we besitate and delay.

Will General Johnson elvance! Humphrey Marshall is doing a can and with success. He is taking the wind clear out of his regions sail. Break midge and Buckers ere dying to belp him. If theneral Johnston will not advance himself, can be not be induced to permit of hers to do set?

The people are clamoring for it. The pries all over the S with are urging it. A soddier's repitation is involved in it. The public interest require it. Will General Johns on bind all these exigencies, bind and foo, and stand, gium and note, and cold and stark, like a frozin pump, and the spring thaw?

SATURDAY, DECEMBER "1, 1861. We have no doubt about the lawfulness of the arrest of the rebel Commissioners. But the exigencies of the country now are such to us even a paper controversy with any other power if a controversy should arise. Moreover, the chief if not the only embarrassment in the care, so far as our Government is concerned, arises from the fact that we have not heretofore recognized the Confederates as a belligerent power, which, however, the British Government has done. The argumentum ad hominem is against us. It is also against Lagland with far greater force. The principles and practice of the British Government alike conspire to justify the seizure of the Commissioners, whereas, the practice of our Government, a practice ill-advised and short-sighted

in our opinion, tends the con rary way. In view of all these considerations, and of then which will readily occur to the thoughttul observer of events, a correspondent, one of the most enlightened and judicious men in the nation, suggests to us, as a means of solving the difficulty gracefully and at the same time on the interest of impartial public justice, the fitness of a proposal on the part of our Government to submit the whole question to the decision of the British Court of Admiral-The conspicuousness of the case, and the extraordinary circumstances attending it, promising, as they would, to render the deision a ruling one in public law for all time to come, binding England of course in common with other nations, would, as our correspondent holds, furnish the highest possible guarantee of a just and impartial judgment. We willingly lay the suggestion before the public For our own part, we entertain no Times an appeal to stop the war. This is doubt whatever, that, if a grave controversy shall in lend spring up on this subject between the two Governments, the proper solution is to be sought in arbitration under some form or

SCANDALOUS FRAUD -The leading editorial article in the Nashville Union and Amerscan of the 11th inst. begins as follows:

The proposition of the Lincoln Government I t commissioners to meet other commission the part of the Confeders e Government for the purpose to the mail transported that is certainly one of the mail transported tracks of juggling that haver rystemanated from that despairing concern. It clearly shows the extremity to which the managers of the war against the South are drived. purpose of reconstructing the exp' ded s certainly one of the m at tran-pirent

Now this is a bold and impudent attempt to revive by frand, by deception, hy lying, the drooping spirits of the rehels. The Nashville Elitors know perfectly we'll that "the Lincoln Government," as they call it, has made no proposition to appoint commissioners to meet other commissioners on the part of the Confederate Government for the reconstruction of the Union. The desperate condition of the rebel cause would be manifest from the desperate character of the means used to sustain it if from nothing else.

The Nashville-Lonisville Conrier informs its readers that the senior Editor of the Louisville Journal, at the late dinner given him in Washington City, strongly pledged Ken'ucky and the whole Union party in this section to the support of the policy of the Administration in regard to slavery. Now most certainly the Elitors of the Nashville-Louisville concern never read or heard or believed any statement to that effect. The senior E liter of the Journal, upon the occasion referred to, did not make the slightest allusion, direct or indirect to the subject of slavery.

Were it not that the rebel papers follow s the fact that the British Ministry refused, exregular system of keeping their readers excited cept on conditions to which the United States by the most monstrous fabrications as to what is said and done by the United States Governard's offer to agree to the old r posal if G eat ment and its prominent supporters and the Britain and France to make privatoring limost shameless assertions as to the winning of racy. rebel victories where either rebel defeats have been sustained or no battles at all been fought, the heart of the rebellion would in one month teering would be to us a most powerful arm of d rs for the purpose of ketting through the local than upon the occasion alluded to. As ARRIVAL FROM RESEL LAND.-We had an interview yesterday with a gentlemen who from Marfreesbore on horseback, and made his be made the most of his opportunities.

He spent several days recently at Bowling the strength of the army in that vicinity and the immediate deferres about Bowling Green. He from the house at every hezard, and eccordingly assures as that to the best of his knowledge, Gen. proceeded with a body of men to enforce, sed dld lohnston has fifty two regiments under his commend; that those regiments everage elecut eight | benner floated to the breeze. hundred men; that of the number about ten theuof military days, leaving about thirty or thirtytwo thousand effic ive men in that division of still, and contestment was restored. Thusthe rebel ermy. Of this number, he saye only about tifteen thousand are supplied with good imperced orms.

He is of the opinion that the thirty thousand troops called for recently by Governor Harris, of Tennessee, will not be raised, even through the resort to the system of drafting that has been inengurated. In many of the counties the effort to draft had been farlonely resisted.

A strong l'nion feeling existe in the upper counties of Tennessee. On Thusday night, the 12th inst, the I'mion men of Biacon county. Tont., viested Lafayette, the county seat, and took possession of one hundred and tilly stand of arms that had been collected by the rebels to be account of the praiseworthy action of your reighforwarded to Nashville for the use of the army.

About the eams number of cone were taken in the same manner by the Union man of Gainesboro, Jeckeon county, Tenn , at the same time. lully two-thirds of the citizens of Mincon county have joined the ermy of the Union in Kentneky.

Our informant, who is a goutleman of intelligence, represents the people of the Confederacy, and of Tenn. in particular, to be in a state of from the children of the New Alliany Asbery terrible enflaring, owing to the constion of business, the absence of money and the necessaries of fruits, megazines, quilts. &c , and similar other life, and the constant fear of invasion from Ken-teen carried through the streets of Nashville, and that some of the regiments had unfarled it having until recently been obliged to perform all at Howling Green. He expresses the opinion the duties of his regiment in which there was that, if the Government troops would rest upon much eickness without any assistance. their arms thail spring, continuing to enforce tha blockede, that such a masterly struke of inactive dant of the Illinois Centrel reilroad, came down would have a tendency to bring them to their company with Major Robert Foreyth, of Illis

St. CHARLES HOTEL, CAIRO, Dec. 17. Our military of this district has been literally errun by "Brigadiers." Within the past few ays we have had no less than five of these celebties circulating obtat here-ennmerated and deibed as follows: Brigadier-General Van Ren selser, Inspector General for the Department of the West. At Bird's Point the troops were elso reviewed and two regiments at Fort Helt. The performance and eppearance of the forces at Bird's Feint were equal if not superior to these at Cairo.

The recent charges circulated against General Smith, of Padneah, concerning his refusal to permit the American flag to be hoisted over the residen es of some secessionists et that place, since equired into are certainly the most ridiculous, ust, and extrevagant I have yel heard of.

The facts elicited are these. A man by the ame of Wolfalk, an evowed accessionist, had, it appears, upon one occasion a long time since, exited a rebel flag, which had become generally known and not suffered to be forgotten.
